Any investor who owns more than 10% shall be asked to redeem the amount (or its equivalent number of units) in excess of 10% within 30 calendar days.

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Market/Price Risk:	Investors are exposed to adverse changes in the prices of high dividend yield stocks in the Asia Pacific Region, which may be brought about by adverse stock market conditions, unfavorable company earnings and valuations and negative developments in the political and economic conditions of countries in the Asia Pacific Region.
Liquidity Risk:	Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the fund's inability to convert equity holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited participants in the market, low trading volumes or market disruptions, among others.
Country Risk:	Investors are exposed to the risk of loss arising from negative developments in the political, economic and social conditions of countries in the Asia Pacific region, which may adversely affect the prices of its stocks.
FX Risk:	Investors are exposed to the risk of loss from a decline in fund value when the market value of the foreign currency denominated equity securities held by the fund are translated to USD.

The Fund's investment outlets undergo proper screening and evaluation in accordance with the Trustee's accreditation process and minimum regulatory requirements. Regulatory exposure limits and asset allocation ranges as provided in the Fund's Plan Rules are strictly adhered to and monitored on a regular basis. The Fund may also use financial derivatives to hedge the portfolio against market and credit risks.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Asian equities plunged in March as the COVID-19 pandemic continued taking its toll on global economic activity as well as financial stability, which was further complicated by the slump in oil price precipitated by the breakdown in OPEC+ negotiations. Global central banks and governments aggressively cut rates and announced various programs to help restore liquidity and support economies. The US 10-year treasury fell by 47bps and the USD strengthened. All Asian markets fell with North Asian markets fared better than South Asian markets. Chinese equities performed the best as economic activity gradually picked up. Korea also outperformed driven by selective memory, healthcare, online platform names. Meanwhile Indonesia performed the worst as the currency depreciated sharply due to turmoil in the bond market. India lagged as the nation enter into nationwide lockdown. Australia was also hit badly dragged by energy, REITs and financials. Overall, growth outperformed value this month.

Fund Performance. The Fund underperformed the benchmark. On the positive side, stock selection in financials helped. We are underweight in Australian and Indian banks which underperformed, and additionally, our positions in Chinese banks including China Merchants Bank and Postal Savings Bank held up better. On the negative side, exposures to real estate hurt. Bond proxies REITs corrected sharply alongside with global fixed income due to deleveraging and also concerns over potential capital raising. However, unlike in 2008, it is important to note that REITs today are less levered and less subject to capital raising risk. In addition, stock selection in communication services continued to hurt.

Fund Strategy. It is clear the COVID-19 has taken hold of the world, its health systems and its financial markets. Central banks and governments have certainly stepped up with unprecedented monetary easing and fiscal packages, but the boost from these efforts is yet to be seen. Markets have de-rated to account for the initial shocks, with the Asia Price-to-book ratio now well below the long-term average. From an income investing perspective, we remain very focused on those companies where we can have conviction in dividend policies. With the uncertain macro backdrop, we maintain a balanced positioning with defensives and quality franchises providing downside protection and value cyclicals offering upside participation. Over the month, we topped up telecom and REITs as well as stock exchanges. This was funded by trimming banks and selective insurance.
