OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The BPI Government Bond Index returned 1.26% for the month of December. Yields of benchmark government securities fell by an average of 14.09 basis points (bps), led by the belly and long-end of the curve. Daily trading volume was slightly less than the previous month, averaging PHP14.3bn, with the 5-year RTB5-12 and 10-year FXTN10-64 securities seeing the heaviest trading volumes over the month.

The Bureau of the Treasury (BTr) held just one FXTN auction in December: a reissuance of FXTN3-24. The 3-year auction saw strong demand and was fully awarded for a volume of Php20bn, with average yield at 3.742%, 25.4 bps lower than the previous reissuance held in October. Bids totaled Php59.66bn, nearly three times the offer size. The BTr opened a tap facility amounting to Php20Bn, though only Php7.041 bn in bids were tendered and accepted. Towards year-end, the 1Q2020 auction schedule was released. Total volume to be auctioned will be higher by Php80bn compared to 1Q2019, with tenors ranging from 3 to 10 years aside from the short-tenored Treasury Bills.

In the local space, inflation for the month of November came in slightly ahead of market expectations, rising 1.3% year-on-year (vs. market expectations of 1.2%). The uptick was mainly driven by an increase in 'housing and utilities' prices, as well as fading base effects from the prior months. Despite the acceleration in consumer prices, Central Bank Chief Benjamin Diokno reiterated that they would continue to take into account any new data and consider potential risks when discussing future rate decisions.

Fund Performance. The Fund underperformed its benchmark by 63 bps in December.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to invest in a diversified mix of securities primarily issued by Philippine corporations.
