OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines returned 1.83% in May as Philippine dollar-denominated bond yields fell by an average of 26 basis points (bps) across the curve. An improvement in risk sentiment saw increased inflows into emerging market assets.

Despite weak economic data, indications of a slowing COVID-19 infection rate in the US and Europe and a cautious resumption of economic activity drove the continuation of the global market rally in May. With the market seeming to look through the economic repercussions of the pandemic and instead focusing on an eventual recovery, market volatility continued to fall and yields remained steady, supported by central bank operations. The improvement in market sentiment saw riskier assets such as emerging market debt and high-yield debt outperforming safe-haven assets. With no major changes announced by the US Federal Reserve in its May meeting, 10-year US Treasury yields closed the month flat at 0.65%.

In the local economic space, inflation for the month of April averaged 2.2% year-on-year, continuing to slow from March's 2.5% figure. An increase in food and beverage prices was more than offset by lower transportation and discretionary consumption-related inflation, with much of the country's economic base under strict quarantine due to the continuing COVID-19 pandemic. While quarantine measures were eased in much of the country mid-month, enhanced quarantine measures were extended in the National Capital Region (home to 70% of economic activity) to the end of the month. In various communiqués throughout the month, Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) Governor Benjamin Diokno continued to indicate that a pause to policy rate easing might be appropriate, but that the central bank had room to implement monetary stimulus in other forms.

Fund Performance. The Fund rose by 0.17% in May, ahead of its benchmark by 16 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The fund will maintain its duration of less than 1 and will continuously look into corporate bonds for yield enhancement.
