OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines rose 0.48% in April as Philippine dollar-denominated bond yields fell an average of 10 basis points across the curve.

In April, prices of US Treasuries fell and the yield curve steepened as positive economic data releases spurred risk-on sentiment. First-quarter US GDP came in at 3.2%, almost a full percentage point above market expectations. Meanwhile, the labor market remained strong, with unemployment falling to a 49-year low at 3.6%, while inflation remained muted at 1.9%. Amid a pickup in manufacturing activity and improving consumer confidence, bond yields rose, with the benchmark US 10-year yield up 10 bps to 2.501%.

Inflation for the month of March eased further to 3.3%, well within the central bank's targeted band of 2-4% for the year. The main driver of the yearly increase in prices was still the food and non-alcoholic beverages category. BSP Governor Benjamin Diokno stated that while he saw room for policy rate easing and a reduction in the reserve requirement ratio (RRR), the monetary board would need more data to determine the appropriate monetary policy response moving forward.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 0.30% for the month, behind the benchmark index by 19 bps.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to closely track the JPMorgan Asia Credit Total Return Index. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
