OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines rose 0.88% in February as Philippine dollar-denominated bond yields fell an average of 16 basis points across the curve.

US bond prices fell as the end of the US government shutdown, the Fed's dovish pivot, and optimism about a potential conclusion to the US-China trade spat improved global risk appetite. Strength in the US economy, particularly in the labor market, and solid confidence indicators also buoyed sentiment for riskier assets, pulling bond yields higher. In addition, the US 4Q GDP print came in at 2.6% y/y, above expectations of 2.2%, while January inflation remained muted at 1.6%. For the month, the benchmark US 10-year yield rose 8.57 bps to 2.715%.

On the local front, inflation for the month of January slowed to 4.4%, slightly lower than consensus estimates and much lower than the 5.1% print in December. The main driver of the monthly increase in prices was the food and non-alcoholic beverages category. Easing inflation contributed to positive sentiment in the market, and thus local bond prices were supported throughout the month. On the 24th of February, it was announced that BSP Governor Nestor Espenilla had passed following a year-long battle with tongue cancer. BSP Deputy Governor Almasara Cyd Tuano-Amador was designated as the BSP officer-in-charge until such time that a successor was appointed.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 0.88% for the month, closely tracking the benchmark index.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to closely track the JPMorgan Asia Credit Total Return Index. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
