OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The BPI Government Bond Index returned 0.23% in October, with benchmark government yields declining 1 basis point (bps) on average. The yield curve pivoted steeper, with benchmark yields in the short end of the curve declining as long-term benchmark yields rose. Average daily trading volumes fell to PHP14.6bn from September's PHP18.8bn, with the 4.8-year RTB5-13 and 5.3-year FXTN7-62 securities seeing the highest trading volumes over the month.

The Bureau of the Treasury (BTr) held two FXTN auctions in October, with PHP30bn on offer for each. The first security was a reissuance of the new 3-year FXTN 3-25 security (first issued in September); the second was a reissuance of the 5-year FXTN10-60 security (first issued in 2015). The reissuance of FXTN3-25 saw strong demand, with bids totaling PHP114.49bn, and was fully awarded at an average yield of 2.182%, 9 bps lower than the average yield it was awarded at in September. The reissuance of FXTN10-60 saw healthy demand, with bids totaling PHP68.66bn, and was fully awarded at an average yield of 3.182%, the same yield it was awarded at when it was last reissued in June.

In the local space, inflation data for the month of September came in at 2.3% year-on-year, meeting market expectations. Slowing food inflation from high base effects offset the continued increase in transport prices, with fares continuing to adjust upward due to decreased capacity as a result of pandemic-related regulations. While the government extended quarantine restrictions in the capital region to the end of November, risks of a slowdown due to budget concerns were alleviated as the 2021 budget bill moved closer to passage, having been ratified by congress and passed on to the Senate. With global credit ratings agencies and supranational institutions downgrading 2020 GDP but forecasting a recovery in 2021, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas kept policy rates constant in its meeting at the start of the month, but affirmed that it would continue to support economic growth with accommodative policy.

Fund Performance. The Fund returned 0.16% for the month, underperforming the benchmark by 7 bps.

Fund Strategy. The fund looks to maintain its underweight duration position relative to the BPI Government Bond Index as yields may increase in view of additional supply for 2021 to 2022 as the government expands its budget to fund pandemic response.
