OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The BPI Government Bond Index fell by 0.15% in July, mainly driven by the decrease in yields in the belly and increase in yields in the longer end of the curve. Compared to the month of June, peso-denominated government bonds were less actively traded with an average daily volume of Php11 billion. Trades were mostly seen on the liquid securities such as the 3-year RTB 3-8, 8-year FXTN 10-60, and 10-month FXTN 5-72.

The Bureau of the Treasury (BTr) held two FXTN re-issuances in July. Healthy demand was seen during the re-issuance of FXTN 5-74. The 5-year paper was awarded at an average yield of 4.226%, which was the highest rate seen in the last 5 years. The government fully awarded the Php15 billion offer of the 5-year paper, as the total bids amounted to Php21.144 billion. Conversely, the BTr fully rejected the re-issuance of FXTN 20-21, its first fully rejected auction for the year. Had the government fully awarded all the Php11.2 billion in bids, the yield on the 20-year paper would have risen to 5.244%.

The local inflation print came in at 2.7% in June, which was well within BSP's expected range of 2.4% to 3.2%. The inflation figure, which marked a five-month low, was mainly driven by slower price increases in food, fuel and electricity. Likewise, the National Government disbursement went up by 20.4% year-on-year in May, mainly driven by the surge in infrastructure. The Philippine Government intends to spend a total of Php847.2 billion, or 5.3% of GDP for infrastructure in 2017.

Fund Performance. The Fund lost 0.41% in July, underperforming the benchmark by 26 bps.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to invest in ABF Philippines Bond Index Fund and the BPI Money Market Fund, to maintain an underweight duration versus the benchmark.
