Fund Manager's Report

Local equities gained 3% for the month, reversing losses incurred in January, as upbeat corporate earnings results bolstered investor sentiment. Most of the companies that reported their 2009 full-year financials beat analysts estimates, with year-on-year earnings improving by an average of 25%. Bargain-hunters resurfaced, focusing on companies with strong earnings such as Aboitiz Power Corporation (+15.8%) and Universal Robina Corporation (+27.8%). Most of the sub-indices were in positive territory with the conglomerates and industrial sectors gaining more than 5%, while the mining and services sectors declining by as much as 4%. Positive local macro news further lifted sentiment after full-year 2009 OFW remittances grew by 5.6% to USD17.3Bln and January inflation eased by 0.1% from the previous month's 4.4%. In terms of market activity, foreign players remained net buyers of the market, pouring in a surplus of USD66Mln and average daily value turnover improving to USD62Mln.

In the near-term, we see local equities trading sideways, with market players awaiting further catalysts from both local and global fronts. Lingered concerns over the fiscal position of some European nations may continue to be a drag on the market. As such, we remain neutral to slightly underweight in terms of equity position with a bias towards utilities and select property names.
