OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEi) experienced some turbulence during the month as market players adopted a risk-off stance. The PSEi fell by 1.74% to 7,580.46 in May. Foreigners continued the sell-off in South East Asia in favor of North Asia. Meanwhile, sentiment in the market was exacerbated by the dismal 1Q2015 GDP print.

The first quarter GDP growth was disappointing at 5.2% versus market consensus of 6.6% on the back of surprisingly lower trade number. Imports rose by 4.6% while exports only merely climbed by 1%. Moreover, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) kept its policy rates steady on the back of benign inflation and robust domestic demand conditions. Inflation slowed to 2.2% in April due to lower food prices, and utilities costs. Remittances growth surged in March, rising by 11.3% year-on-year to US$2.1 billion. This improvement in remittances was mostly felt from Asia (+18% YoY), followed by the US (+16% YoY) and the Middle East (+10% YoY) were healthy as well.

Average daily value turnover in May was Php8.35 billion, lower than the Php8.96 billion recorded in April. Meanwhile, foreigners were net sellers for 18 out of 20 days, totaling US$200 million in May. This shrank the year-to-date foreign inflow to US$665 million.

Top stock gainers for the month include GLO (+16.87%), GTCAP (+11.15%) and MER (+7.99%) while top laggards were EMP (-13.73%), BLOOM (-13.39%) and URC (-12.40%). In terms of sector, Financials (+0.24%) and Holdings (+0.07%) ended in green while the Industrial (-3.44%), Mining and Oil (-4.98%) and Services (-5.73%) fell.

Fund Performance. The fund lost 0.65% in May, beating the benchmark by 14 basis points. It outperforms the benchmark on a year-to-date basis by 108 basis points with a return of 3.93%.

Fund Strategy. We are taking a defensive strategy in the next few weeks as foreign funds continue to exit Philippine equities. The strategy to raise cash near the 8,000-index mark has worked positively for the funds in the past month, raising our out-performance by another notch. We will also take advantage of the current market volatility and position in on oversold large caps, particularly those that offer good dividend yields. Aside from infrastructure stocks, we will also begin deploying on consumer companies that are expected to thrive from election-related spending.
