OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEi) was heavily sold down during the so called “November to Remember” as foreign outflows persisted following a slew of global and domestic news. On the global front, the highlight was obviously the unexpected US Presidential victory of Donald J. Trump that shook global markets. Foreigners also continued to pull out of Emerging Markets and flocked to safe haven USD which caused the peso to depreciate to Php49.676 per dollar at end of month. Moreover, probable rate hike by the US Federal Reserve were also priced in by market players. On the domestic side, the government has been causing uncertainties with its policy changes and stance on divisive issues particularly the burial of the late president Ferdinand Marcos in the Libingan ng mga Bayani.

The PSEi saw another strong tranche of net foreign selling, registering at US$383 million, the highest month of net foreign selling for 2016. From a peak of US$1.3b, year to date net foreign inflow as of end of November is down to US$274 million. Average daily turnover improved with USD145.76m per day during the month of November, or 5.24% higher than USD134m per day. Top index gainers for the month include DMC (+8.00%), SMC (+4.35%), and SCC (+4.05%). Worst performing index names are SECB (-17.45%), TEL (-17.25%), and RLC (-16.80%).

A myriad of economic news for the month are as follows:

- 3Q2016 GDP grew by 7.1%, the fastest since 2013 and highest recorded in the region for the period. On the demand side, fixed capital (+23.5%) was the highest driver, brought about by a surge in construction (+16.8%) followed by private consumption (+7.3%). On the supply side, industrial sector led the way, growing by 8.6% followed by Agriculture at 2.9%.
- Inflation for the month of October was recorded at 2.3%. Food prices were steady at +0.4% MoM. Average inflation for the 10M2016 was at 1.6%, still below the BSP’s target range of 2-4%.
- Remittances from Overseas Filipino Workers grew 6.7% (USD2.4billion) for the month of September. In terms of region, remittances from Americas were up by 22.4% followed by the Middle East (+16%). Asia came up next with an increase of 0.3%. Remittances from Europe, however, declined by 3.4%.

Fund Performance. The fund fell by 4.32% in November, missing its benchmark by 268 basis points. It underperforms the benchmark on a year-to-date basis by 354 basis points with a return of -1.10%.

Fund Strategy. We will remain in defensive mode for the rest of the year as investors continue to de-risk due to several market headwinds in the horizon. The recent downgrade in Philippine earnings expectations for next year will not help sentiment as we move on to the first half of 2017. Our strategy is to wait for market volatility to subside before picking for a long term hold.
